CPD Event Overview

Most of the Infrastructure Projects in Hong Kong are fast tracking with overlapping of design and construction stages. Moreover, with the tight construction periods, competitive tender prices, discrepancies among contract documents, various changes during the course of the works, all these lead to both time and cost claims. The Speaker in this CPD event will share his valuable experiences on the construction claims preparation and assessment, in particular based on the Standard Form of Civil Engineering Contract.

About the Speaker:

Dr Wong is a Senior Consultant Quantity Surveyor and has been working in the Construction Industry on mega government infrastructure projects for about thirty years. Other than quantity surveying and engineering backgrounds, Dr Wong also holds legal and project management academic qualifications from the UK and Australia Universities. During the past years, Dr Wong involved in assessing various construction delay and cost claims and had gained an in-depth knowledge on contract administration under the Standard Form of Civil Engineering Contract. Dr Wong had lectured extensively on construction law in different Institutions.
